SEVENTY-FIFTH DAY

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 10. The House met at 10 o'clock,

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES. Noble Walbridge presented the report of the select committee on liquor bills, upon a bill to prevent the manufacture of liquor without license, submitting amendments with which they recommend the bill pass. Laid on the table to be considered with the bill. Minister Peterson presented the report of the select committee on police items. They have come to the conclusion that the time has arrived for an increase in the number and pay of police, and recommend the items pass as follows: Pay of police, Hawaii, $70,000; Maui, $50,000; Oahu, $125,000; Kauni, $28,500; incidentals, civil and criminal expenses, $20,000.

RESOLUTIONS.

Rep. Bush presented a question to the Minister of Interior, whether he had received a communication from Hon. J. W. Kalua, representative for South Wailuku. He said it was well known that there was such a communication, addressed to either the Minister or the President. It was important to know the fact, so that steps might be taken to have the seat filled. His opinion was that a member who resigns his seat in a moment of spleen ought to be allowed to go. The National Reform Party could afford to lose such a man.

Rep. Lucas thought the matter should be allowed to rest. The member had gone off in a heat, and he would be all right. Only give him a little time.

Rep. Bush called the hon. member to order. The question was not debatable. He had only given his reasons for putting it.

Minister Spencer said he had received such a communication and handed it to the President yester-

The President appointed Rep. Rosa on the military committee in place of Noble McCarthy, resigned. Rep. R. W. Wilcox presented a question to the Attorney-General: What was the reason for keeping a large number of police at the station during the mass meeting last night? Rep. Hookano read a first time his bill to amend the law of 1870 relating to gaming. Read a second time by title and referred to select committee consisting of Messrs. Hookano, C. Brown, and Rickard. The same member moved and it was ordered that the bill relating to masters and servants be referred to the select committee on that subject. Rep. Nawahi moved that his resolution regarding the resignation of Rep. Kalua be taken up.

Rep. Brown believed that action should be taken on the matter.

The motion carried and the resolution was read. It directs the Secretary to issue the requisite notices. Mr. Kalua's resignation was also read. Rep. Brown quoted the rule, that when a seat becomes vacant in a session of the Legislature, the President shall notity the Minister of the Interior.

Rep. Pachaole did not think a member could vacate his seat by voluntary resignation. The law provided the only ways by which a seat could become vacant. He quoted the law, including the clause that a seat may become vacant when a member shall "resign." It was not right for a member, when his $250 was all gone, to say, "There is nothing more for me here, I resign." A member should be required to give good reasons for resigning. He moved that the resoluton be referred to a select committee. Rep. Bush held that the law was very clear that a member may resign, and quoted the subsequent order of procedure. It was the duty of the Minister of the Interior to call a new election, but the resolution should be amended to direct the President, instead of the Secretary, to notify the Minister. Noble Isenberg asked if the House was obliged to accept the resignation. In all probability the member would be re-elected, and a great deal of trouble would have been caused.

Rep. Bush-I beg to differ with the hon. Noble. You will have a chance to put a man in his place.

Minister Peterson gave the opinion that a member could resign whenever he pleased. He hardly thought the House had the right to reject a resignation. Anyhow, it would not be advisable.

Rep. Waipuilani asked, if a member resigned and was re-elected, would be be entitled to a fresh sessional allowance of $250.

Minister Peterson answered in the affirmative.

Rep. Waipuilani was glad to hear it. A member could then resign every week and make a good thing. Rep. Hookano wanted to get the opinion of the Supreme Court therefore supported the motion for a select committee. Rep. Nawahi thought it would be childish to run to the Supreme Court for an opinion on a matter that was perfectly plain. He moved the pre- Attention, Knights of Phythias. vious question, which carried.

The resolution was adopted. The President appointed Rep. Lucas to the committee on damage to the Queen's property, Noble Cornwell to the constitution com-654 tf mittee, and Hookano to the judiciary committee, all in place of Mr.

Rep. White read a first time his bill to prevent the mutilation of coin. Read a second time by title and referred to the committee on PAIVILEGE. Noble Magfarlane rose to a question of privilege, saying he was sorry that a personal difficulty between the late mumber for South Wailuku and bimself had gone so far. A proposition had been made to him for an amicable settlement, but the conditions were such as he could not in honor accept. While he could not state details of the difference, he would apologize to the House for having brought about so much trouble. ORDER OF THE DAY.

The House went into committee of the whole, Rep. Rickard in the chair, for consideration of the Appropriation Bill.

Rep. Brown moved that all items reported on by committees be taken up. Carried. Road to open lands back of Honolulu, $17,500. Considered with report of committee recommending the item, with conditions that applications for lots shall exceed the amount appropriated, etc. Rep. Brown moved that the item pass and the report be referred to the Minister of the Interior, so that he may have before him the inten-ion of the Legislature. Noble Baldwin was informed that a deed with conditions attached would not hold. If this was the case he was surprised that two eminent lawyers had signed those recommendations. The conveyance might be in the form of a two hundred years lease.

Rep. Brown was willing to stake his reputation as a lawyer on the opinion that a deed with conditions would be legal. The property would be held subject to those conditions. Noble Marsden asked if there were any applications for the lands. Minister Spencer said there were Rep. Brown said there was a petition before the House, signed by fifty to seventy-five persons, who declared in it their intention to apply for lots if the road be built. The petition was read. Rep. Pachaole said it was an open question between what these people considered fair prices and what the Minister of the Interior called fair prices. The conditions inserted might fully protect the treasury, but the item would swell the bill. He thought the matter should be deferred till next session. Rep. Brown said there was a great deal of Government land up there, and he as an attorney was authorized to buy lots at prices ranging as high as $300 an acre. He believed that if the road was made the Government would get back more than the appropriation very quickly from the sale of lands The temperature there was fifteen or twenty degress cooler than in town and the locality was very desirable for summer residences.

Rep. Cummings supported the Noble Widemann fully coincided with the arguments for the appropriation. He would give $250 or even $300 himself to-day for an acre of that upland if the Minister would only take it. But he feared that the measure was not the proper one for the end proposed. There should be a special act to authorize the Minister of the Interior to make the expenditure under the desired conditions.

Noble Marsden moved that the item be deferred till the hon. Noble from Honolulu bring in a bill such as he had suggested. Rep. Bush moved for recess, which was taken from 12 to 1:30.

MASS MEETING.

The mass meeting called in the name of the National Reform Party last night on Palace Square drew several hundred people, including many women and children. Speeches were made by James Quina, J. M. Kaneakua, J. K. Kaunamano, L. W. P. Kanealii, John E. Bush, Jos. Nawahi, R. W. Wilcox, Wm. White, and Kiba. The committee having found it advisable, contrary to the resolution appointing them, to abandon the "want of confidence" topic, the talking was nearly all on the constitutional convention project.

Mr. Bush said the proposed constitution would be one that every man, woman, and child in the kingdom would have a hand in framing. There was nothing in the present constitution against an enabling act. and anyhow this instrument was illegal itself. It was made by robbers, a handful of missionary law-

Mr. Wilcox urged the natives to crowd the Legislative Hall when the enabling act came up, and said that any National Reform member voting against it ought to be torn limb from limb.

The audience was in very good humor, giving the impression that they looked on the proceedings as a farce. They laughed at the hottest appeals and greeted fresh orators with cries for Kaulukou and others not of the party.

FULL attendance of Mystic Lodge A No 2, K. of P., is hereby ordered for THIS (Wednesday) EVENING. Business of great importance will come before the convention. F. HORRI-ON, C. C. Honolulu, Sept. 10, 1890. 654

DEATH OF MR. TURNBULL.

In our issue of Tuesday we noticed the death of James Turnbull, sugar boiler at Naalehu plantation, by drowning. Subsequently we have learned the following particulars regarding it: On Sunday last a party of employees of the plantation, among whom was the deceased. were bathing in the large reservoir. Some had come out and were dressing when they noticed Mr. Turnbull plash around and sink. The seksmith of the plantation, Mr. McWilliams, and others plunged in and secured the body, but when it was brought out life was extinct. He was buried that afternoon. Mr. Turnbull was to all appearances enjoying perfect health and the cause of his drowning seemed to his comrades a little mysterious. Perhaps
